RECOMMENDED PRACTICE

MUTUAL AID

- Crews responding into another district on an emergency or no delay call may consider requesting medical responders if they were not already dispatched.
- In non-emergency situations EMS crews needing additional manpower for lifting heavy patients should request another EMS unit or the supervisor. Medical responders are a last resort in this situation.
- In urgent situations medical responders, fire department personnel and other close EMS units can be called for lifting assistance.
- Officers should make mutual aide requests of other county EMS agencies.
